CENTERING WORDS

OPENING PRAYER

SCRIPTURE READING—Matthew 1:18-25

SACRAMENT OF COMMUNION

It is a season of feasting:

feasting on carefully prepared food, feasting...regardless of our circumstances.

It is a season of feasting.

Tonight we come to this table...made known in bread and cup.

As we remember the birth of Jesus so long ago,

We remember...as we prepare to partake in communion.

The Lord be with you. And also with you.

Lift up your hearts in prayer. We lift them up to God!

Let us give thanks to God. It is right to give God thanks and praise!

It is indeed right...and the signs of your love are everywhere

Out of nowhere...your kindness to us.

Glory indeed, our God—the whole earth cries “Glory” tonight.

Angels sing...as we glimpse your glory,

we yearn for it in fullness for all people and for the healing of creation.

And so we pray for those who are in pain tonight,

those who do not hear...in need of your transforming love. (silence)

Come to us once again, O God:

In the face of the child...will be filled with love.

The love of God is...let us find courage.

Come to us once again, O God:

In the hand offered...Christ's truth shall last.

Rejoice! Rejoice! Emmanuel who comes to us to make us whole.

SHARING THE BREAD AND THE CUP

The holiness of the ordinary...things made holy this night.

The body of Christ, the bread of life.

The lifeblood of Christ, the cup of blessing.

Let us eat and drink together for our strengthening in the faith, celebrating the birth of the Christ Child this special night.

SHARING THE FEAST—Please come forward down the centre aisle to receive communion. You will be offered a small piece of bread to be dipped in the cup (intinction). Return to your seats by the side aisles. Those not able to come forward will be served in the pew. In the quiet sharing of elements, we ponder the familiar Christmas story—yet ever new to us today.

PRAYER AFTER COMMUNION

We thank you God, for a wee infant who is the Christ of the Christmas Story, through whom we are made new. We remember your self-giving in a Bethlehem manger. Through your Spirit, we become empowered in your name, to go into the world to tell the Christmas story.

We thank you for this meal of thanksgiving at this special time of the year.

Amen.

Minister's Message

By now the shopping is done, the presents are bought and wrapped, baking is done, and everything is all set for the big Christmas celebration tomorrow. Whether you are hosting Christmas or going out, the familiar smells of the Christmas traditions you and your family have will be remembered and celebrated.

It is my prayer that the Christ of Christmas will bring you and your family hope for the New Year, peace for the upcoming year, joy in the celebrations of the day and love for all year long. May the Christ of Christmas be present at your table and celebrations this special day. ~ Rev. Karen Lumley

Music for Christmas Eve

Late on Christmas Eve! Time to reflect on and ponder the eternal mystery, now that the inevitable rush is over! We hear the biblical passages, and sing and listen to the Christmas carols, some familiar and some which provide a fresh perspective on the ancient story.

The carols we will all sing together are all centuries old, and sit deep in our memories. Our opening processional hymn, "Once in Royal David's City" with the first verse, as so often in the past few years, sung by Colleen Watters, is from the mid-19th century. The original Latin words of "Adeste Fideles" (O Come all ye faithful) come from the 18th century, and the melody of "What Child is This", Greensleeves, is a traditional English folk song dating back to the 16th century, as does the melody Winchester Old of "While shepherds watched their flocks by night". The tune of "Joy to the World" is attributed to George Frederic Handel, to an 18th century text of Isaac Watts. Finally, the text of our beloved carol, "Silent Night" was written by a village priest, Father Joseph Mohr, in Oberndorf, Austria, in 1816, and, two years later on Christmas Eve, was first sung to a tune composed by local organist Franz Xaver Gruber.

The choir will offer six carols tonight, three written by Canadian composers. Kingston, Ontario, organist and composer Mark Sirett set the familiar Christina Rossetti text "Love came down at Christmas" to a lovely gentle melody. W. H. Anderson served as organist and choir director in this Church for twenty years prior to his death in 1955. He was also a prolific composer, setting several choral works to poems by female writers, in particular. "As I walked in Bethlehem" is by Nanaimo, British Columbia poet, Audrey Alexander Brown, who imagines a variety of thoughts and connections to the first Christmas, as she wanders through the streets of Bethlehem. Austrian composer, Michael Haydn, is the younger brother of the better known Joseph, who apparently strongly admired his brother's compositions. "Rise up, shepherds of the night" is a cheerful piece, in which the shepherds are encouraged to go to Bethlehem to worship the new-born child. This arrangement features a flute accompaniment, played by Charmaine Bacon.

The final three carols are all familiar texts set to new melodies. English composer, Will Todd recommends that his 2018 version of "Angels from the realms of glory" be sung "radiantly". The tune is refreshingly bright, and perhaps fits the text more appropriately than the familiar one. In contrast, Ontario composer, Albert Greer, uses a lovely reflective angular melody in his gentle setting of "In the bleak Midwinter", also accompanied by flautist, Charmaine Bacon and organist Wes Elias.

Our closing offering features a familiar tune (at last!) in a 2019 setting by American Molly Ijames of "God rest ye merry, gentlemen let nothing you dismay". This is a lively and imaginative piece, set at a brisk tempo, after which we will return to a more contemplative mood with the blessing, and all joining in to sing the traditional final hymn, "Silent Night".

Our heartfelt thanks goes out to everyone who helped with today's Christmas Eve services—we couldn't have pulled them off without you!

The flowers near the pulpit are in loving memory of: Geoffrey C. Morrow, from his family, and Jack and Dawn McKeag, from their family.
